THESIS PROJECT

Human memory is truly fragile. Even after chapters of our lives have closed, the emotions remain, though the details fade over time. Those faint memories, almost gone, are sometimes too hazy to recall clearly—whether they are moments we cherish or ones we'd rather forget. High school was full of those memories: friendships, growing up, changes, and countless emotions that caught us off guard. It was a time so simple yet so complicated, leaving behind memories that still echo in our hearts.

6060 / 2026 ART SPACE

This photo series captures the coexistence of two roommates sharing the same space on contrasting routines. With different return hours, the balcony becomes a poignant symbol of connection born from the quiet habit of looking up from below upon returning, wondering if the other is already home. It reflects an unspoken bond and presence felt through shifting lights, quiet traces, and a shared space, even when their paths do not directly cross.

SKETCHBOOK / 2022 2026

A collection of hand-drawn illustrations, exploring intricate textures, lighting studies, and precise architectural perspectives.
